

What makes us unique?

Zize Bikes are the only bicycles in the world built specifically for people who are big. Not just an over built bicycle from another manufacturer, these bikes are designed from the ground up to be elegant and functional and can easily take anybody's weight. The number one design concerns were safety and comfort. Our bikes safely hold riders who weigh up to 550 pounds.

Zize Bikes

The One And Only

As a person of size, when was the last time you found anything built just for you? In 2006 Zize Bikes Founder and President, Joan Denizot, was looking for a bike but couldn't find one that was safe, comfortable, and strong enough to hold her.

Rather than settle for less, she developed a bike built from the ground up that incorporated graceful design elements, high strength components and state-of-the-art technology. The result? Clean lines and a safe, fun ride.

Why Buy A Zize Bike?

What goes into a Zize Bike? First, there's aircraft-grade cro-moly steel tubing, which not only makes it unbreakable, but also helps a Zize Bike look as sharp as it does. There is no heavy bracketing and over-welding.

Second are a range of specific components that come from performance and racing bikes that last. This includes disc brakes which far outperform any other brake on the market.

The wheel spokes are stronger and the tires have a higher thread count and more durability than you will find elsewhere. No matter your weight, they provide a superior ride.

One of the great innovations is the Shimano shifter mechanism, an internally-g geared unit, it eliminates the chain slip that often happens with derailleurs and allows for no-hassle shifting.

With the forward position of the pedals and the comfortable seat it will feel more like you're sitting on your favorite chair than riding a bike. There's no better way to improve your health and your mood than to be out riding on your Zize Bike.

The best in brakes is standard with Zize Bikes.

Personal Service with Zize Bikes

We know how frustrating it is when you call almost any business, no matter how big or small, to find that the person you need to speak with is hidden by a phalanx of customer service assistants, voice mails, and anonymous emails.

You won't have that problem with Zize Bikes. When you call or email us, you will be communicating directly with principals of the company—often you will be talking with Founder and President Joan Denizot. Don't be left in a haze of voice mails and friendly but often less-than-helpful customer service personnel.

Call today and discover the difference.
